Introduction

The Office of Institutional Assessment and Research strives to provide the highest quality data and analytics to administration, faculty, and staff, in order to assist in decision making that will aid the institution in better serving our students and the community.

Holding to this mission, the Office of Institutional Assessment and Research prepares a fact book each year to present institutional data related to academic programs, enrollment, personnel, outcomes, etc. It is our intent to provide often sought out information to make data more readily available to the Elms community.

We welcome your feedback on ways we can enhance or expand the usefulness and effectiveness of the Fact Book. Please forward questions or comments to Karalee Yvon at yvonk@elms.edu.

The Office of Institutional Assessment and Research also welcomes you to visit the OIAR page on the Elms College web site where you may submit your data requests and obtain additional information and resources related to institutional assessment and research. The web page is accessible at: <https://www.elms.edu/about-elms/administrative-offices/institutional-assessment-research/>

Data presented here come from a variety of sources. Information sources are stated (where applicable in each section) unless originating from the college's own internally calculated statistics. Sources include:

- IPEDS (Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System) data reported by the college. IPEDS data are available through the website of the National Center for Educational Statistics Data Center (<https://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/Home/UseTheData>). Categories in the IPEDS database include: enrollment statistics, institutional revenue and expenditures, completions, graduations, outcomes, tuition, and faculty-salary averages among other key indicators. This fact book will also utilize the IPEDS data feedback reports to provide comparisons against peer institutions (n=22). Peer institutions include: Albertus Magnus College (New Haven, CT), American International College (Springfield, MA), Anna Maria College (Paxton, MA), Bay Path University (Longmeadow, MA), Colby-Sawyer College (New London, NH), Eastern Nazarene College (Quincy, MA), Emmanuel College (Boston, MA), Endicott College (Beverly, MA), Fisher College (Boston, MA), Franklin Pierce University (Rindge, NH), Gordon College (Wenham, MA), Lasell University (Newton, MA), Mitchell College (New London, CT), Mount Aloysius College (Cresson, PA), New England College (Henniker, NH), Nichols College (Dudley, MA), Norwich University (Northfield, VT), Regis College (Weston, MA), Rivier University (Nashua, NH), Saint Joseph's College of Maine (Standish, ME), Springfield College (Springfield, MA), University of Saint Joseph (West Hartford, CT)
- NCAA student-athlete graduation rate and academic success rate data reported by the college. These reports provide insight as to the graduation rates of student-athletes versus non-athletes as well as the “academic success rate” (ASR) of student-athletes (how many student-athletes completed OR left the college academically and athletically eligible). NCAA provides a comparison of the institution's ASR compared with the federal rates for each sport.
- Ruffalo Noel-Levitz Higher Education consultants assist us in delivering a variety of surveys that help gather data primarily related to student satisfaction. (<https://www.noellevitz.com/>)
- BCSSE surveys (delivered through Indiana University) provide data feedback reports to compare the college against peer participating colleges in areas related to student engagement (<http://nsse.iub.edu/>)
- The First Destination Survey is administered by the Career Center through Handshake to gain information on post-graduation status of recent college graduates.

PART 1: GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Elms Mission

The College of Our Lady of the Elms, a Catholic college, educates a diverse group of students in a supportive, vibrant learning community. Combining a liberal arts education with professional studies, Elms College empowers students to effect positive changes in the community and in the world.

Affirming the founding tradition of the Sisters of St. Joseph, Elms College challenges students to embrace change without compromising principle, to respond creatively to the demands of their chosen careers, and to advocate for people in need. Elms College is a community rooted in faith, educated in mind, compassionate in heart, and responsive to civic and social obligations.

2. College History

The Sisters of St. Joseph and the Diocese of Springfield co-founded the College of Our Lady of the Elms as an academy that evolved into a normal school between 1908 and 1910.

The College of Our Lady of the Elms became a baccalaureate-granting institution in 1928, with a specialization in education. Through the efforts of the Sisters of St. Joseph and the Springfield diocesan clergy, the curriculum was expanded through the 1940s and 1950s, and in 1953, an evening program was established.

To meet the needs of the surrounding community, Elms developed undergraduate programs in nursing, business management, and communication disorders during the 1960s and 1970s. In the late 1980s, Weekend College and a Master of Arts degree program in teaching were instituted.

Since then, Elms College has developed additional undergraduate and graduate programs of study, added new residence halls, opened the Maguire Center for Health, Fitness, and Athletics in 1994, admitted the first group of men as full-time students in 1998, opened the Lyons Center for Natural and Health Sciences (CNHS) in 2013, and opened the Center for Student Success in 2017. The Center for Equity in Urban Education was launched in 2019 to build a pipeline of diverse individuals who will serve as teachers and leaders in the urban school districts of Springfield, Holyoke, Chicopee and beyond. In 2020, the College launched the St. Augustine Center for Ethics, Religion and Culture (CERC), to provide opportunities for spiritual development and dialogue.

Today, Elms continues to grow its undergraduate and graduate programming. Over the past decade we have excelled academically, athletically, culturally and socially. Elms College is thriving without compromising our values or mission, and we will continue to do so with the help of bright, passionate students, committed faculty and staff, and a network of alumni and friends whose own histories are unquestionably tied with ours.

3. Governance

The role served by the college administration is that of stewardship. We are stewards of our students' futures and campus resources. The college's operations and major decisions are guided by the president and his administrative cabinet, comprised of senior college staff. The office of the president is in turn governed by the board of trustees, and in collaboration with the faculty, serves the crucial function of carrying out the college's vision and mission in a strategic manner.

4. Institutional Accreditation

New England Commission of Higher Education (NECHE)

Elms College is accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education (formerly the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, NEASC). Accreditation by NECHE signifies that the institution has undergone a comprehensive evaluation and has been found to meet standards agreed upon by the higher education community.

Elms College received its initial accreditation in 1942. The most recent comprehensive evaluation visit occurred in 2023 and resulted in continued accreditation.

To maintain accreditation, Elms College demonstrates ongoing compliance with NECHE's nine Standards for Accreditation: 1. Mission and Purposes, 2. Planning and Evaluation, 3. Organization and Governance, 4. The Academic Program, 5. Students, 6. Teaching, Learning, and Scholarship, 7. Institutional Resources, 8. Educational Effectiveness, 9 Integrity, Transparency, and Public Disclosure.

NECHE's current standards emphasize institutional effectiveness, equitable student success, and the use of evidence to inform decision-making and continuous improvement.

Summary of Standards:

Standard 1: Mission and Purposes

The institution's mission guides all activities and provides the foundation for planning, resource allocation, and evaluation of institutional effectiveness.

Standard 2: Planning and Evaluation

The institution engages in systematic planning and evaluation to improve performance and achieve its mission, using data-informed processes across academic, financial, and operational areas.

Standard 3: Organization and Governance

The institution maintains governance and organizational structures that support effective decision-making, accountability, and alignment with its mission.

Standard 4: The Academic Program

Academic programs are coherent, rigorous, and aligned with the institution's mission. The institution ensures academic quality and uses assessment results to improve student learning.

Standard 5: Students

The institution recruits, enrolls, and supports a diverse student population and provides services and environments that promote student success, well-being, and achievement.

Standard 6: Teaching, Learning, and Scholarship

Qualified faculty and staff support high-quality teaching and learning. The institution fosters scholarship and professional development consistent with its mission.

Standard 7: Institutional Resources

The institution has sufficient financial, human, physical, and technological resources to support its mission and sustain operations, with appropriate planning and oversight.

Standard 8: Educational Effectiveness

The institution demonstrates that students achieve appropriate learning outcomes and uses evidence of student success and post-graduate outcomes to inform improvement.

Standard 9: Integrity, Transparency, and Public Disclosure

The institution operates with integrity and ensures that information provided to the public is accurate, accessible, and sufficient for informed decision-making.

7	Demonstrate quantitative literacy.	All 1000 level MAT courses (except: MAT 1014, MAT 1024)	Critical thinking: Numeric Expression rubric for one assignment

The faculty assessment committee is charged with collecting and reporting data about the seven core curriculum student learning outcomes. The primary purpose of learning outcomes assessment at Elms College is to increase student success in major disciplines, as well as the liberal arts and sciences core, through a process that involves faculty from all academic areas and that promotes continuous improvements in teaching and learning.

Each semester, the courses designated as “core” courses will perform their respective assessments to gather data on students’ abilities within each outcome. These data are submitted to the assessment committee for analysis. At the end of each academic year, the assessment committee produces an annual report summarizing student performance and faculty participation in assessment efforts as well as making recommendations for the next academic year. The report is given to the faculty curriculum committee and Vice President of Academic Affairs for review and consideration of future curriculum changes.

The Academic Assessment Google Site serves as a hub for the learning outcomes assessment efforts. The site contains the data collection form, graphical visualizations of currently available data, and resources (such as an assessment handbook, PDF copies of the assessment rubrics, etc.). Elms faculty, administration, and staff may view the site at the following hyperlink: <https://sites.google.com/elms.edu/academic-assessment>. (Note: the web site is only accessible to those with a college issued email address. Viewers must log in with their @elms.edu credentials to gain access.) A link to The Core Curriculum Assessment Handbook may be accessed on the Academic Assessment site but can also be accessed by clicking here.

14. Annual Credit Hour Production by Term and Course Level

Credit hour production in this section is calculated on the basis of all course sections offered and the total number of credits generated by those sections during the term identified. Data is provided for academic year 2020-21 through 2024-25. (Note: summer I terms include courses starting prior to July 1st of the academic year while summer II terms include courses starting on or after July 1st of the academic year.)

15. Credit Hour Production by Division/School (Annual)

Credit hour production in this section is based on total credits generated by each course division as of the end of the academic year. Course departments are determined by course prefix. Credit hours are broken out by main campus undergraduate courses, off-campus/online undergraduate courses, and graduate courses.

17. Headcount Enrollment by Division/School (Fall Term)

The tables to follow summarize unduplicated headcount enrollments by division/school. First, primary major enrollment is shown at both the undergraduate and graduate level sorted by program division/school. (Note: Data is presented based on the major students held on the corresponding census day and degree level as reported to IPEDS. All majors are bachelor's degree programs unless otherwise noted. Post-baccalaureate pre-medical students are shown as graduates as this is how they were submitted for IPEDS reporting.) Second major enrollments at the undergraduate level are shown next, followed by undergraduate minor enrollments.

PART IV: STUDENTS

18. 12-Month Enrollment and Full-Time Equivalent (FTE)

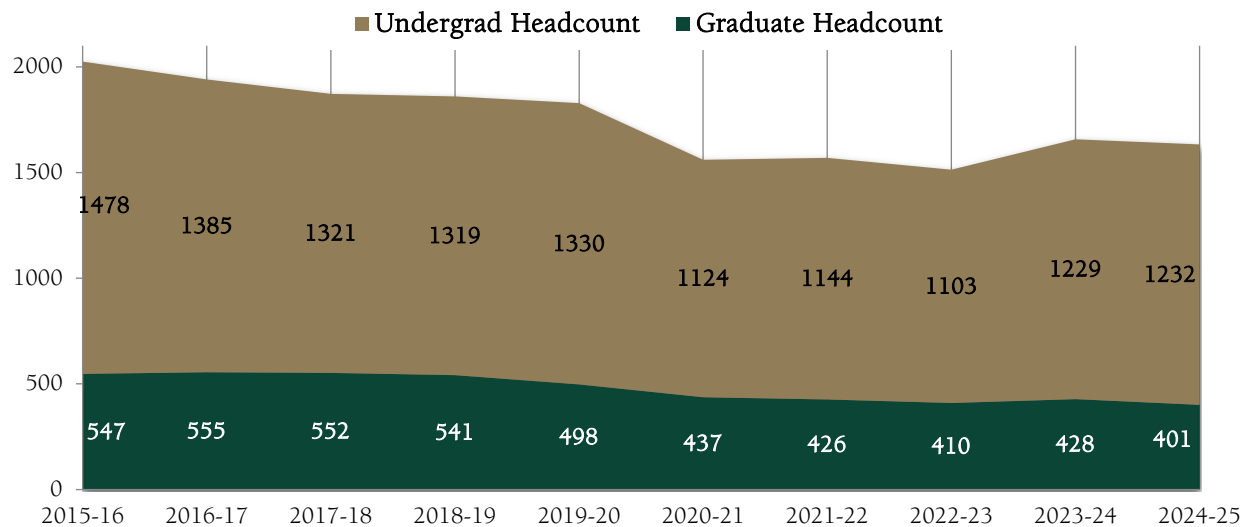

12-month (July 1 to June 30 of the following year) enrollment and student contact hour information are collected by IPEDS to calculate the 12-month unduplicated headcount and full-time equivalent (FTE) for the reporting period. The “Annual Unduplicated” headcount tallies each student only once for the year (this would include students who were enrolled for any term throughout the year counted only once; i.e. a student enrolled during spring and fall would be counted just once in the unduplicated count.)

There are multiple methods for calculating FTE. Here, full-time equivalent (FTE) is calculated by taking the credit/contact hours generated during the reporting period and dividing by the number of credits a full-time student (at a specific degree level) would be expected to take annually. For full-time undergraduates, the 12-month credit hour expectation is 30 credits; full-time graduates have the credit hour expectation of 24; for full-time students at the doctor level (grouped with graduates in the graphic), the credit hour expectation is 26. Ten years of trend data are provided through academic year 2024-25.

Academic Year	12-month Unduplicated Headcount	Undergrad Unduplicated Headcount	Grad Unduplicated Headcount	12-month FTE	Undergrad FTE	Grad FTE	Doctor FTE

20. Fall Enrollment Summary by Student Level and FT/PT Status

The following is IPEDS reported enrollment data, showing fall student enrollment by student level and full-time/part-time status. As defined by IPEDS, degree/certificate seeking students are “enrolled in courses for credit and recognized by the institution as seeking a degree, certificate, or other formal award”; a first-time student is “a student who has no prior postsecondary experience attending any institution for the first time at the undergraduate level”; transfer-ins are students “entering the reporting institution for the first time but known to have previously attended a postsecondary institution at the same level”; continuing students are “students beyond their first-year and are also not transfer-ins.”

22. Headcount Enrollment and FTE by Degree Level

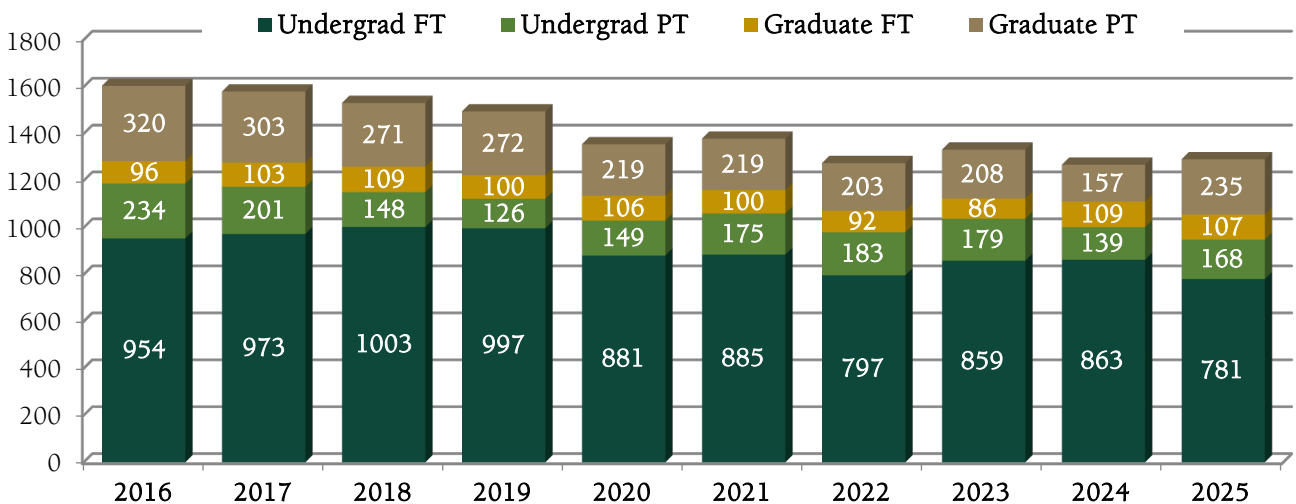

Fall Semester:

Full-time undergraduate students are defined as carrying 12 or more credits during the semester. Part-time undergraduates are defined as carrying 11 or less credits during the semester. Full-time graduate students are defined as carrying 9 or more credits during the semester. Part-time graduates are defined as carrying 8 or less credits during the semester. Undergraduate and graduate enrollment status in this section is as of the official fall census reporting date.

Full-time equivalent (FTE) may be calculated in many different ways. Here, FTE is calculated with the “1/3 method”, which is the number of full time students plus one-third of the part time students for each degree level.

Spring semester data are shown as of spring census day and includes the number of students enrolled in spring term classes plus those students enrolled in intersession courses actively running as of the census date. The same FTE “1/3 methodology” is used here for the FTE calculations.

23. Student Demographics and Other Characteristics

Characteristics of all Undergraduates:

The following summarizes characteristics and demographic trends of undergraduate level students over five years. Data is as of the fall census date each academic year. “Undergraduates” here include all students reported to IPEDS at the undergraduate level enrolled for credit at all site locations on the census day. First-generation data is determined by FAFSA information indicating parents’ highest level of education.

Characteristics of First-Time Full-Time Bachelor's Seeking Undergraduates:

First-time full-time bachelor's degree-seeking undergraduates are students entering the institution for the first time who are enrolled in a bachelor's degree program; they have no prior attendance at any other institution. These students make up a "cohort" as they enter each fall term. First-generation data is determined by FAFSA information indicating parents' highest level of education.

Characteristics of all Graduate Students:

“Graduates” here include all students reported to IPEDS at the graduate level enrolled for credit at all site locations on the census day. Note that post-baccalaureate pre-medical students are reported as graduate level students. Other graduate level programs include those pursuing master’s degrees, post-master’s certificates, doctoral degrees, or non-degree students taking courses at the graduate level.

PART V: ADMISSIONS AND FRESHMEN PROFILE

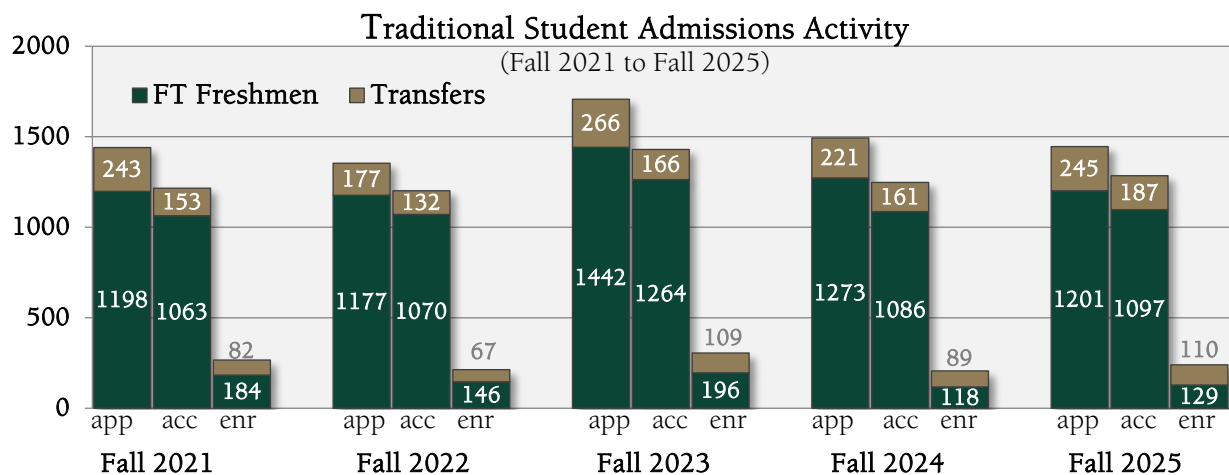

24. Trends in Admissions Activity

“Submitted Applications” is the (gross) total of applications submitted. “Completed Applications” is the (gross) total of applications ready for review with all credentials submitted. “Admissions” is the (gross) total of students offered admission. “Total Enrolled” is the (net) total enrolled as of the fall census date each year. “Percent Admitted” is equal to total admissions divided by total completed applications. “Percent Admitted to Enrolled” (also called “yield”) is the net enrolled divided by total students offered admission.

Traditional Undergraduate Admissions Activity:

The following displays the trend in traditional undergraduate admissions activity from Fall 2021 through Fall 2025. “Traditional” undergraduates here include first time degree/certificate seeking full- and part-time freshmen as well as full-time transfers. First-Time Freshmen data reflect IPEDS reported values for the corresponding time period. Traditional transfers include transfer students enrolled in programs at the main campus (including the accelerated nursing program); activity is calculated using fall census data.

Non-Traditional Undergraduate and Graduate Student Admissions Activity:

The following displays the trend in non-traditional undergraduate and graduate student admissions activity from Fall 2021 through Fall 2025. Non-traditional Undergraduates include not-first-time part-time and degree-completion undergraduates. Graduate level includes any student in a program above the undergraduate level (i.e. post-baccalaureate certificates, graduate certificates, master’s, doctorate). Since these programs do not follow the same traditional enrollment semester schedule, admission activity is calculated using the end of fall term totals (rather than census totals) as some admitted students will enroll in a fall session commencing after the census date.

26. Beginning College Survey of Student Engagement (BCSSE)

Elms College participates annually in the Beginning College Survey of Student Engagement. The survey prompts entering college students to reflect on their high school experiences and expectations for their first year of college. The following language and data summary are taken from the BCSSE web site and BCSSE 2025 Institutional Report:

BCSSE collects data about entering college students' high school academic and co-curricular experiences, as well as their expectations for participating in educationally purposeful activities during the first college year. BCSSE administration usually takes place prior to the start of fall classes and is designed to be paired with a NSSE administration at the end of the first college year, providing an in-depth understanding of first-year student engagement on your campus. BCSSE, specifically, focuses on assessing (1) the time and effort entering, first-year students devoted to educationally purposeful activities in high school and expect to devote to during their first year of college, and (2) what these entering first-year students expect their institutions to provide them regarding opportunities and emphasis.

Among the class of 2029, there were 85 BCSSE survey participants (which equates to approximately 66% of the incoming class). The following lists highlight responses to select survey questions, categorized by scale item.

Student Background Information (High School)

88%	of students previously attended public high school.
5%	attended a private, religiously-affiliated high school.
28%	responded that most of their high school grades were either a "B" or "B+".
71%	said most of their high school grades were "A-" or higher.
65%	of students had taken at least one advanced placement course in high school.
66%	worked for pay (at least 1-5 hours a week) during their last year of high school.
92%	expect to work (at least 1-5 hours a week) on- or off-campus in the coming year.

Quantitative Reasoning (High School)

53%	said they "often" or "very often" reached conclusions based on their own analysis of numerical information (numbers, graphs, statistics, etc.)

36%	said they "often" or "very often" evaluated what others have concluded from numerical information.

Learning Strategies (High School)

66%	said they "often" or "very often" reviewed their notes after class.
------------	---

Collaborative Learning (Expectations)

55%	expect to ask another student to help them understand course material "often" or "very often".
51%	Expect to explain course material to one or more students "often" or "very often"
77%	expect to work with other students on course projects/assignment "often" or "very often"

Student-Faculty Interaction (Expectations)

67% expect to talk about career plans with a faculty member “often” or “very” often.

Discussions with Diverse Others (Expectations)

86% expect to have discussions with people of a race/ethnicity other than their own “often” or “very” often.

81% expect to have discussions with people from a different economic background “often” or “very” often.

83% expect to have discussions with people of different religious beliefs “often” or “very” often.

Academic Perseverance (Expectations)

61% are “very certain” that they will ask instructors for help when struggling with a course assignment.

Academic Difficulty (Expectations)

85% expect it to be “moderately” or “very” difficult to pay college expenses.

71% expect it to be “moderately” or “very” difficult to make new friends.

56% expect it to be “moderately” or “very” difficult to interact with faculty.

Academic Preparation (Perceived)

61% feel that they are “very prepared” to write clearly and effectively.

49% feel that they are “very prepared” to speak clearly and effectively.

56% feel that they are “very prepared” to think critically and analytically.

41% feel that they are “very prepared” to analyze numerical and statistical information.

51% feel that they are “very prepared” to learn effectively on their own.

Campus Environment (Importance)

63% feel it is “very important” for the institution to provide support to help students succeed academically.

50% feel it is “very important” for the institution to provide support to help manage non-academic responsibilities (work, family, etc.)

52% feel it is “very important” for the institution to provide opportunities to be involved socially.

58% feel it is “very important” for the institution to provide opportunities to attend campus activities and events.

50% feel it is “very important” for the institution to provide learning support services (tutoring services, writing center, etc.)

Other Student Information (College)

72% are using support from parents or relatives to pay for education expenses.

48% are using loans to pay for education expenses.

92% are using grants or scholarships to pay for education expenses.

65% are using employment on or off campus to pay for education expenses.

54% are using personal savings or other sources to pay for education expenses.

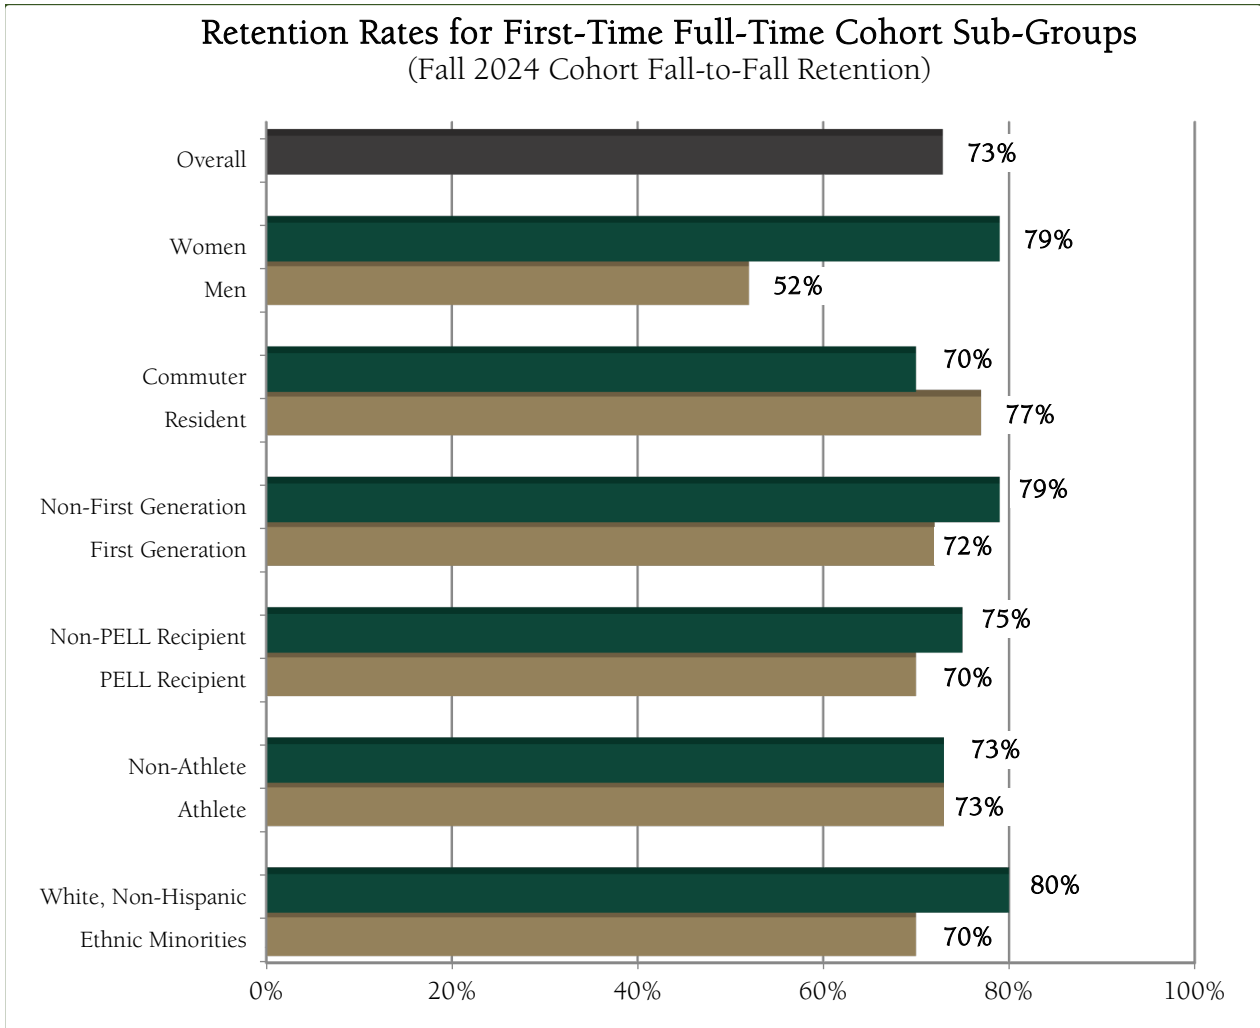

78% of students indicated Elms College was their first choice.

8% of students indicated Elms college was their second choice.

PART VI: OUTCOMES

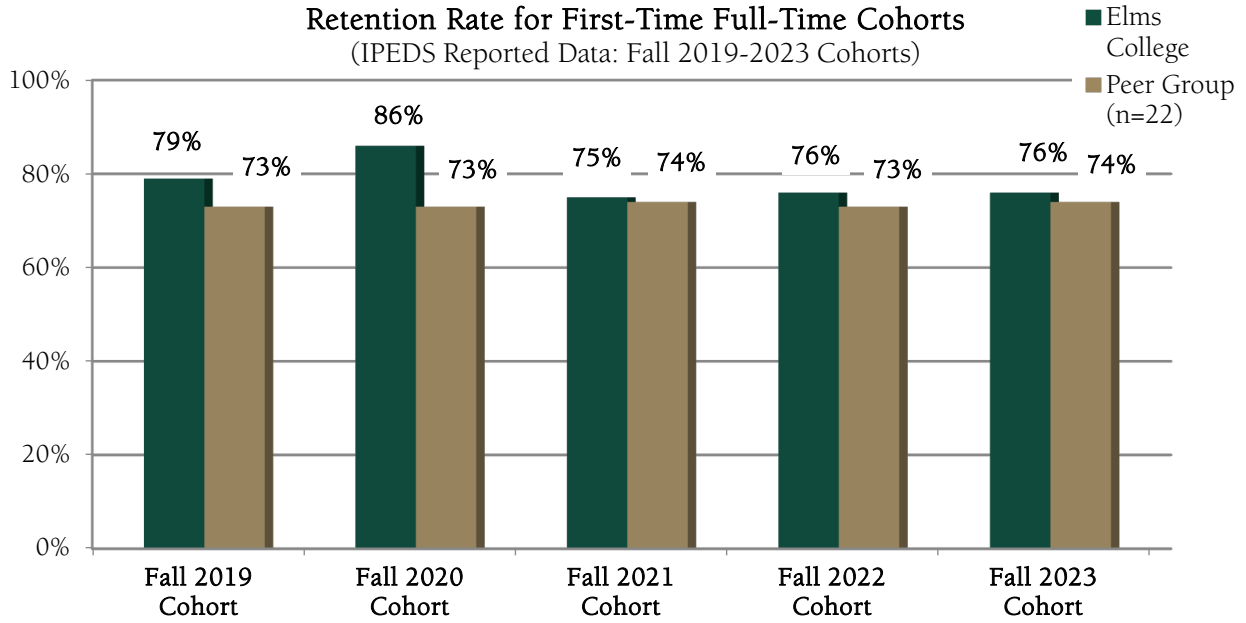

27. Retention and Persistence

The following summarizes retention/persistence rates of first-time, full-time bachelor’s degree-seeking undergraduates as submitted to IPEDS. As defined by IPEDS, “retention rates measure the percentage of first-time students who are seeking bachelor’s degrees who return to the institution to continue their studies the following fall.” The graphic below displays the Fall 2024 cohort retention to Fall 2025 by select subgroups.

Trend of Elms’ Full-Time Bachelor’s Cohort Fall-to-Fall Retention Against IPEDS Peer Group Median

The college has identified and grouped 22 institutions with similar enrollment, geographic, and demographic characteristics to serve as a peer comparison group. The following displays the trend of Elms’ full-time cohort retention rate compared with the median of the peer group. (Note: Most recent comparison data is available up to the Fall 2023 cohort as peer comparisons are not yet available for the Fall 2024 cohort.)

Semester-to-Semester Retention Rates for Full-Time Bachelor’s Degree-Seeking Cohorts

Internally, retention is also tracked from semester to semester. The following graphic shows the semester-to-semester retention trends of first-time full-time bachelor’s cohorts from Fall 2019 through Fall 2025. Retention is determined as of the respective census date each semester.

Cohort	Num. Cohort (Retention %)	2nd Semester	3rd Semester	4th Semester	5th Semester	6th Semester	7th Semester	8th Semester

28. Student Satisfaction Assessment (SSI/ASPS)

Annually, the college participates in the Ruffalo Noel-Levitz Student Satisfaction Inventory (SSI; for degree-seeking undergraduates under 25 years of age) and Adult Student Priority Survey (ASPS; for degree-seeking undergraduate or graduate students 25 years and older). Both surveys focus on the same outcome: measuring students' expectations and satisfaction on a range of topics related to the institution. The survey results provide insight into the institution's strengths and challenges. Strengths are items with high importance and high satisfaction. Challenges are items rated with high importance but lower satisfaction, resulting in a performance gap.

The following displays the top ten institutional strengths and challenges that were identified in the most recent survey administration (for academic year 2024-25). The total number of participants were 95 (17% yield) and 59 (11% yield) for the SSI and ASPS, respectively. (Results from the SSI and ASPS are shown separately as the student characteristics/programs are quite different.)

Student Satisfaction Inventory (SSI)

Strengths

- My academic advisor is approachable.
- The instruction in my major field is excellent.
- I am able to register for classes I need with few conflicts.
- My academic advisor is knowledgeable about requirements in my major.
- The content of the courses within my major is valuable.
- My academic advisor is concerned about my success as an individual.
- Nearly all of the faculty are knowledgeable in their field.
- Major requirements are clear and reasonable.
- There is a commitment to academic excellence on this campus.
- Tutoring services are readily available.

Challenges

- The campus is safe and secure for all students.
- Security staff respond quickly in emergencies.
- It is an enjoyable experience to be a student on this campus.
- Adequate financial aid is available for most students.
- This institution shows concern for students as individuals.
- Tuition paid is a worthwhile investment.
- Financial aid awards are announced to students in time to be helpful in college planning.
- Parking lots are well-lighted and secure.
- Student disciplinary procedures are fair.

Adult Student Priorities Survey (ASPS)

Strengths

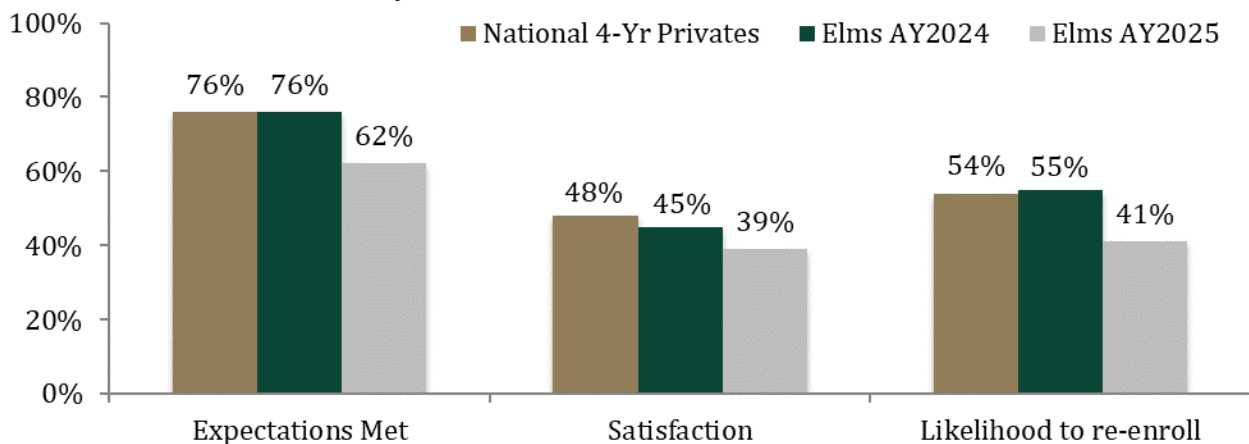

- My academic advisor is knowledgeable about requirements in my major.
- The quality of instruction I receive in my program is excellent.
- My academic advisor is accessible by telephone and e-mail.
- I am able to easily register for classes online.
- My academic advisor is available at times that are convenient for me.
- Major requirements are clear and reasonable.
- Nearly all faculty are knowledgeable in their field.
- Library resources and services are adequate for adults.
- Faculty are usually available outside the classroom by phone, by e-mail or in-person.
- Part-time faculty are competent as classroom instructors.

Challenges

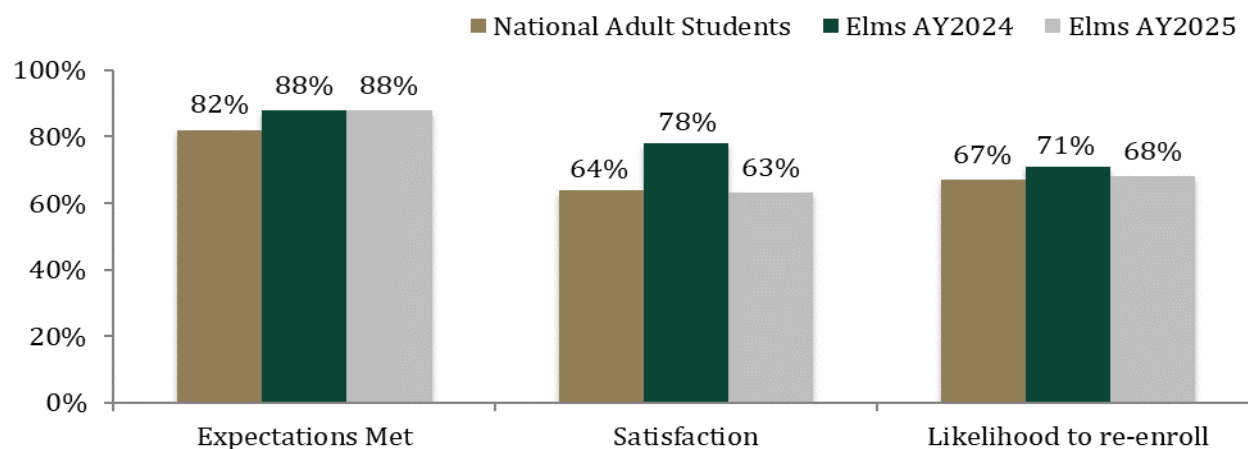

- This institution provides timely responses to student complaints.
- Channels are readily available for adult students to express complaints.
- This institution responds quickly to my requests for information.

The SSI and ASPS provide a summary segment in which students are asked three all-encompassing questions: So far, how has your college experience met your expectations? Rate your overall satisfaction with your experience here thus far. All in all, if you had to do it over, would you enroll here again? The charts to follow display the 2025 academic year results for Elms against the 2024 Elms results and the national comparison group. The “expectations met” section shows the percentage of students reporting a rating of 4 to 7, indicating “about what I expected” to “much better than expected.” “Satisfaction” shows the percentage of students reporting 6 or 7, indicating “satisfied” or very “satisfied.” “Likelihood to re-enroll” represents the percentage of students reporting 6 or 7 indicating “probably yes” or “definitely yes.”

Core Outcomes Assessment

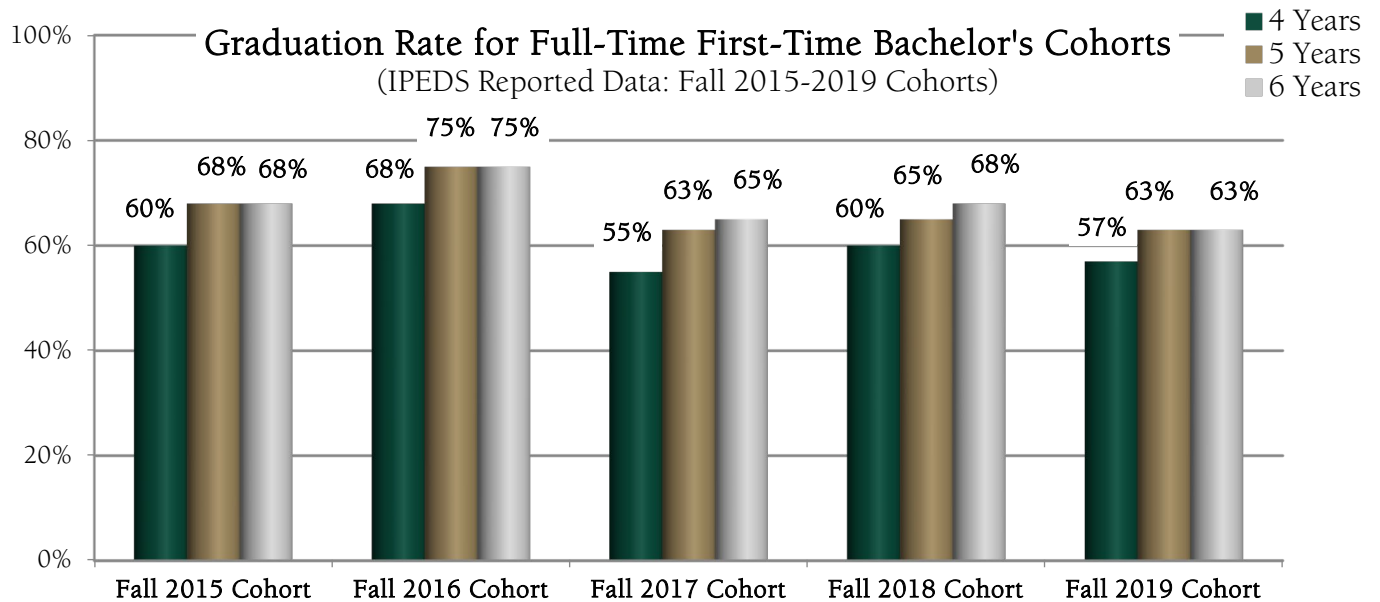

The college has added additional questions to the SSI and ASPs that would allow students to reflect on their level of importance and satisfaction associated with the core curriculum learning outcomes. The survey presents a statement related to each outcome and asks students to rate their level of importance and satisfaction with each. The table below summarizes the results (for undergraduate students only) while also showing the gap between importance and satisfaction levels. Cells highlighted in green represent outcomes that had gaps below average while cells highlighted in red represent outcomes that had gaps above average. Academic year 2025 results for all Elms undergraduate respondents (n=120) are displayed as well as a specific look at senior respondents (n=27).

30. Graduation Rates of Full-Year Cohorts

During the annual IPEDS data collection, institutions are required to report outcome measures on full-year cohorts (covering all students newly enrolled during the period of July 1 and June 30th of the academic year). As stated by IPEDS:

“The OM component collects award and enrollment data from degree-granting institutions on four undergraduate cohorts and eight undergraduate subcohorts at three status points: four-years, six-years, and eight-years after entry. The four cohorts of degree/certificate-seeking undergraduates are: first-time full-time entering (FTFT), first-time part-time entering (FTPT), non-first-time full-time entering (NFTFT), and non-first-time part-time entering (NFTPT). For each cohort, two subcohort groups have been added to the OM component - Pell Grant recipients and Non-Pell Grant recipients - resulting in eight new undergraduate subcohorts.”

The following table and graphic display outcomes data for the 2017-18 full year cohort.

31. Student-Athlete Graduation and Academic Success Rates

Each year the NCAA requires participating institutions to submit data on the overall student body enrollment and graduation rates as well as student-athlete graduation rates and academic success rates. Graduation rates are based on completion within 150% of normal time. The academic success rate (ASR) shows how many student-athletes completed or left the institution academically and athletically eligible.

The table below displays a comparison of the graduation rates of all first-time full-time cohort students versus student-athletes for the four most recently reported cohorts as well as the graduation rate average of these cohorts.

	2016-17 Cohort		2017-18 Cohort		2018-19 Cohort		2019-20 Cohort		4-Cohort Average

33. Post-Graduation Status of Degree Recipients

Following commencement each year, the Career Center distributes the First Destination Survey to gain knowledge of recent degree recipients' post-graduation status. Graduates are asked to identify their employment status (whether they are working full-time or part-time, continuing education, seeking continuing education, or unemployed/still seeking employment). Data presented includes both graduate entered responses and administratively entered responses. "Knowledge rate" refers to the overall response rate as a combination of graduate entered responses and admin-entered responses.

Overall outcomes for all students over the past three years are shown as well as a breakdown by degree level (bachelor's only, master's only, and doctor's only).
